FROM THE DIRECTOR

As a rule, we don't love to repeat ourselves... but some shows are worth it. We first directed Newsies in 2019. The Studio was a few years old, and the show had only recently become available. It remains, to this day, one of our favorites.

A few years ago, when we began to realize the level of talent we had up and coming, Newsies landed on our mental whiteboard. We knew we wanted to do it again, and we knew this group would exceed our expectations in bringing it to life.

Boy, is that an understatement.

I could wax poetic about the history of these events. I could tell you that the big emotions of the characters coupled with the powerful songs are what's going to have me holding in tears in the back of the theatre... but that would only be half of it.

The truth is, this show is the senior show, not only for our son, but for a whole big group of kids we've had the sheer JOY of working with for a lot of years now. We've watched them grow up. We've gotten to be a part of this chapter of their lives. And this show is the one that launches them into their next chapter.

And we get to be here for that. How lucky are we?

We talk a lot about taking moments in the middle. About slowing down and taking it all in. Over the years, I've amassed a bunch of moments, but I have a feeling that this show and this cast--the veterans and the newbies--are about to give all of us many, many more.

It's been one of the most amazing experiences watching this one come together. I feel lucky to be working with so many incredibly talented and genuinely kind humans, and I have no doubt you're going to leave here feeling just as amazed by them as we've been every single day. We're SO excited to share this show with you.

And to all of the seniors who are turning the page on their next chapter...keep your feet on the ground and keep reaching for the stars.

And remember, you've got some pretty big fans here at The Studio.

In awe and wonder,
Courtney

Congratulations,
Sawyer! You were meant to be a newsie!

Brynn, and Daniel*
